Human Rights & Social Justice

Bridging Disciplines Programs allow you to earn an interdisciplinary certificate that integrates area requirements, electives, courses for your major, internships, and research experiences.

The Human Rights & Social Justice BDP introduces you to the interdisciplinary study and practice of human rights at home and around the world. You will learn about the forms of oppression, marginalization, and violence that concern human rights researchers and practitioners. Through coursework drawn from the humanities, social sciences, law, fine arts, and public policy, you will develop your knowledge of the issues and debates that dominate human rights and social justice scholarship today, including an understanding of the regional contexts within which contemporary human rights violations take place. At the same time, you will learn about the historical, theoretical, and institutional underpinnings of international human rights advocacy and social justice movements, from the legacies of colonialism and imperialism to the international institutions that were formed in the wake of World War II. Finally, through the connecting experience component of the program, you will have the opportunity to complement your coursework with hands-on experience in an organization working on human rights and social justice concerns.

Upon completion of 19 credit hours from the options listed to the right, you will earn a certificate in Human Rights & Social Justice.

The Human Rights & Social Justice BDP is offered in collaboration with the Bernard and Audre Rapoport Center for Human Rights and Justice at UT Austin. The BDP is overseen by a panel of faculty members from across campus. Members include Jason Cons (Anthropology), Kamran Ali (Anthropology), Michael Anderson (Government), Karen Engle (Law), Rhonda Evans (Government), Neville Hoad (English), Monica Jimenez (African and African Diaspora Studies), Samantha Pinto (English), Nestor Rodriguez (Sociology), Snehal Shingavi (English), Pavithra Vasudevan (African and African Diaspora Studies), and Michael Young (Sociology).

Foundation Courses (4 Credit Hours)

Foundation courses introduce key methodologies and issues related to Human Rights & Social Justice. Take one course from each of the following categories.

I. Forum Seminar

BDP 101: Human Rights and Social Justice

II. Human Rights History and Theory Course

BDP 319: Human Rights: Theories and Practices

Connecting Experiences (6 Credit Hours)

Your BDP advisor can help you find internships and research opportunities that connect Human Rights & Social Justice to your major. We call these opportunities "Connecting Experiences" because they play such an important role in integrating your studies. At least one of your two required Connecting Experiences (3 credit hours each) must be an internship experience. Your BDP advisor can help you think about possibilities for connecting experiences, and you may also visit the Rapoport Center for Human Rights and Justice, which provides resources about internship opportunities and faculty at UT with research interests related to human rights.

For more information and for examples of past connecting experiences, visit www.utexas.edu/ugs/bdp and consult your BDP advisor.

Strand Courses (9 Credit Hours)

In addition to your Foundation Courses and Connecting Experiences, you must complete 9 credit hours of strand courses. You should work with your BDP advisor to choose strand courses that will focus your BDP on your specific interests, provide you with an interdisciplinary perspective on your BDP topic, and at the same time expose you to multiple areas of concern for human rights researchers and practitioners. In order to create an interdisciplinary experience, you must choose courses from a variety of disciplines. Individual course listings for these concentrations are located on the opposite side of this page.

IMPORTANT: In designing your concentration, you must choose courses either from more than one of the following Topics categories, or from more than one of the Geographic categories (e.g. Regional, US, or Comparative) listed on the back of this page:

Topics: Nationalism, Imperialism, and War
 Social Groups and Social Justice
 Theory, Policy, and Institutions

Integration Essay

In order to complete your BDP certificate, write a 3-4 page integration essay in which you reflect on what you learned and accomplished through your BDP experience. This essay is your opportunity to draw connections among your interdisciplinary BDP coursework, your Connecting Experiences, and your major. For additional guidelines, please consult your BDP advisor.
