Student Responsibility Notice
As a student at The University of Texas at Austin, you are ultimately responsible for knowing the regulations, policies, and requirements of the university and the School of Undergraduate Studies. The Undergraduate Catalog, General Information Catalog, and the Course Schedule provide this information online at registrar.utexas.edu.

University Honor Code
As a student of The University of Texas at Austin, I shall abide by the core values of the University and uphold academic integrity.

Welcome to UGS!

The School of Undergraduate Studies is the best place to find your future. By starting with us, you’re giving yourself the time you need to discover new interests and explore the academic options at UT.

As a UGS student, you have an academic advisor and career counselor to help you find a major you’ll love. What’s more, you won’t waste any time while exploring, because you will be completing core coursework that applies toward the degrees you are considering.

You can spend up to four semesters in Undergraduate Studies though, many students declare a major after two semesters.

During orientation you will

- Meet your academic advisor and go over the classes you’d like to take (page 3)
- Learn about classes you can take that count toward all UT degrees (page 6)
- Register for at least 12 hours of courses (don’t worry, you can make schedule changes after orientation all the way up through the fourth day of the fall semester) (page 10)
- Learn about resources to help you make your Longhorn experience the best it can be (page 15)
- Make friends and find your campus community!
James W. Vick Center for Strategic Advising & Career Counseling

For appointments, go online at: utexas.edu/ugs/csacc or call 512-232-8400

The Vick Center is the student dean’s office for the School of Undergraduate Studies and offers advising and career counseling services. You will visit the center regularly to meet with your academic advisor and career counselor. Check in at the front desk with your UT ID card.

Strategic advising
Your academic advisor will guide you through your first few semesters at UT. Together, you will explore your interests, strengths, and abilities as you develop your four-year academic plan and choose a major that fits your goals.

Career counseling
Career counseling is a collaborative process. Your career counselor will listen to you and help you clarify who you are and what you want to do in life. Together you will sketch out multiple paths from college to the work world.

UT Student Responsibilities
• Read advising emails
• Make and prepare for at least two appointments each semester
• Accept responsibility for your decisions and actions
• Actively engage in the exploration process and develop a plan with your advisor and career counselor
• Learn the requirements of the majors you are interested in and understand application requirements
• Meet critical academic deadlines such as course registration, add/drop, and Q-drop

Academic Advisor & Career Counselor Responsibilities
• Help you learn more about yourself and clarify your values and goals
• Provide accurate information about major options, requirements, policies, and procedures
• Introduce you to the many resources of the university
• Maintain confidentiality, abiding by UT and FERPA guidelines
• Advisors help you pick courses consistent with the requirements of degree programs
• Career counselors help you explore ways to become marketable for the work world
Plan Your Schedule

You must be enrolled in at least 12 hours of coursework each semester to be a full-time student, which is, on average, four classes. You can enroll in a maximum of 17 hours. To graduate in four years, aim to take 15 hours per semester (five classes, on average). Use the schedule planning grid at the back of this guide to help you. Types of courses to consider:

University Core Curriculum Requirements
Students in all majors must complete the 42-credit-hour core curriculum. See page 6 for requirements.

Internal Transfer Application Requirements
To gain entrance into some colleges and majors, you must complete certain courses. Learn which courses are required to apply to programs of interest on Wayfinder at utexas.edu/ugs/wayfinder.

Major, Minor, and Certificate Requirements
Courses that count toward majors, minors, or certificate programs of interest can help you explore. Degree plans, which list courses required for majors, can be found on Wayfinder: utexas.edu/ugs/wayfinder.

Prerequisite Courses
Use the course schedule to research the prerequisite requirements for classes you want to take.

Electives
Courses you take that do not fulfill a specific requirement are considered electives. Most degree plans allow for electives.

Reading UT Course Numbers
RHE 306 - The letters indicate the department offering the course—in this case it’s Rhetoric and Writing.

RHE 306 - The first digit describes the number of credit hours the course is worth—in this case it’s three hours. You should enroll in at least 12 hours a semester, which is about four classes.

RHE 306 - The last two digits indicate if a class is lower- or upper-division. Lower-division classes are numbered 01 to 19. Upper-division classes are numbered 20 to 79.

Status (Ex: Open)
If a class is “open,” you should be able to register for the class if you meet the prerequisites. “Open; restricted” courses are only open to certain students. Other possible statuses include “waitlisted,” “closed,” or “cancelled.”

Prerequisites (Prereqs)
Prerequisites are requirements you must meet before taking a certain course, for example: credit for a course, a grade in a course, completion of a specific number of hours, and/or a qualifying grade on a placement test.

Unique Number (Ex: 44435)
This five-digit number identifies a particular section of a course. You’ll need it to register for the class. The days, times, rooms, and professors listed under one unique number indicate ALL of the times and locations of that specific section. In other words, some classes will meet in different rooms or at different times on certain days of the week.

Core Curriculum FAQ

What is a Signature Course?
Your Signature Course is your opportunity to engage in college-level thinking and learning by connecting with top faculty members on topics taught from all colleges and schools.

What is the difference between UGS 302 and UGS 303 Signature Courses?
UGS 302s are small 18-student classes. UGS 303s are large-format classes with 50-200 students. These classes break up into discussion sessions of no more than 17 students.

If I take a class pass/fail, will it still fulfill core requirements?
No, you must complete all core curriculum classes for a letter grade (D- or higher). However, while a D- is a passing grade at UT, many colleges and schools at UT have specific grade requirements for classes; additionally, core classes that serve as a prerequisite for another class may have higher grade requirements.

Can I fulfill core requirements at a community college or through credit-by-exam?
Yes. Please see page 16 for information on credit-by-exam and transfer credit.

Do I have to complete the core before I take classes for my major?
No, core classes may be taken at any time before you graduate. However, some core classes may be important to take earlier if they serve as prerequisites for classes in your major or as requirements to apply to certain majors.

I took a UGS 302 with a writing flag. Does that count for my core writing flag requirement as well as my Signature Course requirement?
No, you cannot count one class for two core curriculum requirements.

Freshman Reading Round-Up

Tuesday, August 23, 2016
10:00 a.m.–Noon
utexas.edu/student/reading

Read a great book recommended by the university’s finest faculty over the summer. Then come to campus the day before classes begin for a small, lively book club led by the professor who selected your book.

To participate:
• Browse through the list of books at utexas.edu/student/reading
• Read a book before school starts in August
• Show up for free breakfast and discuss your book with a professor and other first-year students

“I like that I had the chance to participate in a discussion before classes started; it made me less nervous about going to class.”
—Past Round-Up participant
Registering for Classes
registrar.utexas.edu/students/registration

During orientation, you’ll meet with your advisor to discuss classes and clear your advising bar. In future semesters, you must schedule an advising appointment before registration to have your bar cleared.

Find your registration time on your Registration Information Sheet (RIS) located on the Registrar’s website. Your RIS will show any registration bars that will prevent you from registering if you do not clear them.

Registration Bars

Advising Bar
You must meet with your academic advisor to discuss the classes you plan to register for.

Medical Bar
University Health Services needs medical information from you. Contact UHS at 512-471-4955 or 512-475-8301 (international students).

Admissions Bar
UT is missing a transcript from your high school or another institution you attended. Contact the Office of Admissions at 512-475-7399.

Financial Bar
Your tuition and fees are not yet paid in full. Contact Student Accounts Receivable at 512-475-7777.

International Bar
The International Office needs to meet with you. Contact the International Office at 512-471-2477.

GIAC Bar
The Graduate and International Admissions Center may need your final transcripts or other information. Contact GIAC at 512-475-7390.

Texas Success Initiative Bar
UT may need you to take a test to establish proficiency in reading, writing, or math. Contact the TSI Office at 512-232-8412.

Dean of Students Bars
Update your contact information on your RIS or contact the Dean of Students with questions at 512-471-5017.

Gain Leadership Experience with UGS Council

The Undergraduate Studies Council is the representative student organization for the School of Undergraduate Studies. Gain leadership experience by organizing events and activities for fellow students. Influence school and university-wide policies and legislation.

Weekly meetings are Monday evenings during the fall and spring semesters. Leadership positions are available to first-year students.
Registration System
registrar.utexas.edu/students/registration

STEP 1: Adding Courses
To register for a course, enter the correct unique number for the section you want and click submit.

If there is a scheduling conflict, the system will notify you of the issue. The system will sometimes warn a student of prerequisites, however, it is ultimately the student’s responsibility for checking and following prerequisites.

By the end of the registration period, make sure you have registered for at least 12 hours. This may mean initially registering for some classes you don’t want. Don’t worry, you will have opportunities to change your courses before the semester begins.

STEP 2: Optional Fees
Optional fees selections can be made during registration or later in the semester:

The Big Ticket
Purchasers can draw one ticket for each regular-season home sporting event.

Department of Theatre and Dance
Receive four tickets for the Department of Theatre and Dance’s productions.

Parking Permits
Select from a variety of parking permits for the garages and parking lots on campus.

Student Speaker Series
Supports the Student Endowed Centennial Lectureship. Allows UT to bring lectures and speakers to campus.

TX Performing Arts Package
Discounted tickets for professional touring events presented by the Performing Arts Center.

Analecta Literary & Arts Journal
Provides you a copy of UT’s literary and arts journal.

Cactus
Receive a copy of UT’s yearbook.

STEP 3: Completing Registration
Paying your tuition and fees
When you finish selecting your courses, click “Estimate Tuition Bill.” If you have financial aid, click on the “Pay with Financial Aid” button at the end of your registration process. If the button does not show up, contact the Office of Financial Aid for more information.

Visit utexas.edu/students and, under “Costs and Financial Aid,” click on “My Tuition Bill” and enter the correct semester and your UT EID.

Pay by the deadline or you will be dropped from all your courses (aka zapped). The payment deadline for Fall 2016 is August 10. The payment deadline for Spring 2017 is January 5.
What do you do if the classes you want are closed or restricted?

- Add yourself to waitlists.
- Always have a list of back-up options. These could be requirements for core curriculum, major, minor, or certificate programs, as well as exploratory electives.
- Register for something! If you do not register for anything, you will have a later add/drop time than students who registered and paid their bill on time. You might have to register for classes or professors you do not intend to keep, knowing you will have the chance to make changes to your schedule before the semester starts.
- Remember: during the registration and add/drop periods, most UT students will be actively making changes to their schedules. Classes will close and open frequently.

Waitlists
If a class you’re interested in has a waitlist (indicated on the course schedule) add yourself to it by entering the unique number in the registration system. If you are on a waitlist for a class that conflicts with another class on your schedule, you can select the conflicting class as a swap class. If you are successfully added to the waitlisted class, you will be dropped from the swap class.

If you are added to the waitlisted class, you will receive an email notification. If you are on a waitlist, it does not mean that you are guaranteed to be added to the class. You can add yourself to waitlists for up to four classes, but you can only add yourself to two waitlists per course number. See the courses you are waitlisted for on the My Waitlists page (registrar.utexas.edu/students/registration/during/waitlists).

Add and Drop Classes
At the beginning of each semester, you can add and drop classes without penalty. Since UT has flat-rate tuition, there will be no change to your bill if you stay at or above 12 hours. Check the academic calendar for specific dates: registrar.utexas.edu/calendars.

Adding Courses
By the fourth class day
Add courses on your own using the registration system.

After the fourth class day
Obtain departmental approval to add a course. For example, if you want to add an open section of a sociology course on the 5th class day of the fall semester, you will need to contact the Sociology Department for registration assistance. Each department has different procedures regarding the next step.

Dropping Courses
Consult with your advisor about how dropping classes might impact your academic progress.

By the 12th class day
Drop courses on your own using the registration system.

By the Q-drop deadline
Meet with your advisor to begin the Q-drop process. The Fall 2016 Q-drop deadline is November 1 and the Spring 2017 Q-drop deadline is April 3.

What is a Q-drop?
A Q-drop is a drop made after the 12th class day. A “Q” will appear on your transcript in place of the grade for the class(es) you choose to drop and it will not affect your GPA.

Consult your academic advisor before petitioning for placement or credit. Claiming credit or placement is called petitioning and is done online. If a credit is claimed, there will be no grade associated with the credit and it will not affect your GPA. A fee is assessed for petitioning a test score.

View a list of qualifying Advanced Placement (AP), International Baccalaureate (IB), CLEP, or SAT Subject test scores online (learningsciences.utexas.edu/studenttesting/exams). Send official score reports to UT using score recipient code 6882.

Completing the GOV 310L AP Credit
If you earned the required score on the AP US Government and Politics exam or the American Government CLEP exam, you need to take the Texas Government Only Test to complete the credit. This 20-question multiple-choice test is administered once each month by Student Testing Services.

Submit Test Scores
Send official reports to:
The University of Texas at Austin
Student Testing Services
PO Box 7246, Austin, TX 78713
phone: 512-232-2653
fax: 512-471-3509
* Score recipient code 6882

Send AP scores
Complete the right half of your AP Grade Report, call 888-308-0013, or visit collegeboard.com/student/testing/ap/exgrd_rep.html

Send CLEP Scores:
Call 800-257-9558 or visit collegeboard.com/student/testing/clep/scores.html

Send IB scores
Visit ibo.org

Send SAT Subject Test scores
Call 866-756-7346 or visit professionals.collegeboard.com/testing/sat-subject/scores/send

Transfer Credit
Transfer credit includes dual credit (high school classes that count as college credit) and coursework completed at other institutions.

You are required to submit an official transcript from each college or university from which you have received college credit.

Mail Transcripts to:
The University of Texas at Austin
Office of Admissions
P.O. Box 8058, Austin, TX 78713-8058

For credit to be added to your UT transcript, the course must be considered transferrable by the university, and you must have a C- or higher. The grade received in the course will not affect your UT GPA.

Concurrent Enrollment
UGS students may not be enrolled at two institutions at the same time (e.g., being a full-time student at UT while taking one class at ACC) during a fall or spring semester.
Language Placement Exams
learningsciences.utexas.edu/studenttesting

Student Testing Services offers a variety of foreign language placement exams. If you have experience in a foreign language and wish to continue studying it, take a placement exam to determine which course level is appropriate. Your scores may also earn you foreign language course credit.

Chemistry ALEKS Required Score
85 for CH301 (introductory chemistry course for science majors)

If you plan to take calculus (M 408K/C), you will need to take the UT Math Assessment (UTMA) and the Math ALEKS. The UTMA is an in-person test taken during orientation. The ALEKS is an online test that can be taken from any computer. If you do not earn the required UTMA score, you may take the exam again. You have two attempts per semester to earn the required score. Consider using the ALEKS learning modules to help you prepare. You may take the ALEKS as many times as you would like.

If you plan to take chemistry (CH 301), you will need to take the Chemistry ALEKS.

You will be able to register for the calculus or chemistry courses you need during orientation before you take any assessments. However, you must earn the required UTMA score by August 22 and the required Chemistry ALEKS score by August 23. Failure to earn the required score by the deadline will result in the course being dropped from your schedule. Scores expire after one long semester (fall or spring).

UTMA Tips
- Be honest and complete the assessment on your own
- Bring a pencil with you
- No calculator is allowed

ALEKS Tips
- Be honest and complete the assessment on your own
- You may not use books, other materials, the internet, or consult with anyone during the assessment
- Bring a pencil and paper
- No calculator is necessary—ALEKS provides one
